PSL MAY GROW TO 16 TEAMS

Diplomats favorites

Clubs that have applied for 1980 PSL membership with "Soccer Action" odds about their chances:

evens Canberra Diplomats
2/1 Wollongong
5/1 Grange Thistle (Old)
6/1 Praton Makedonia (Vic)
20/1 Juventus (Vic)
100/1 Blacktown
Scratched Frankton (Vic).

By KYLE PATTERSON

The Philips League may be increased to 16 clubs following the formation of new clubs in Canberra and Wollongong.

The Canberra Diplomats and the unnamed Wollongong club may be elected to the league when the ASF executive meets early next month.

And the PSL clubs "relegated" at the end of the season may be re-elected bringing the number of clubs to 16.

However, the relegation/promotion issue is still clouded, and we could see one of the following events:

- South Melbourne and St George "relegated", but re-elected.
- Brisbane Lions relegated and replaced by Queensland State League club Grange Thistle.
- Preston Makedonia promoted to replace Footscray.
- A team dropping out voluntarily to be replaced by Wollongong, with the Diplomats replacing either Sydney Olympic, Brisbane Lions or Footscray. This would leave only 14 teams in the PSL.
- A team dropping out voluntarily to be replaced by Preston Makedonia or Grange Thistle, with the Diplomats and Wollongong included to make 16 clubs.

The Canberra Diplomats club, which was launched with a gala function in Canberra last Thursday, is depending heavily on Wollongong to make a satisfactory application.

Unofficial reports suggest the PSL will accept the Diplomats application providing Wollongong is strong enough. This is to avoid having an odd number of teams, and the necessity of promoting an inner-city club to balance the numbers.

PSL policy sets down that decentralisation of soccer is essential, meaning clubs from the already over-crowded bases of Sydney and Melbourne have little chance of gaining membership.

The situation in Canberra is different to that in the other capitals and the Diplomats have a good case to argue.

The Diplomats maintain that soccer in Canberra will lose its impetus unless a second PSL team is formed there.

Canberra City is believed to be fuming at the Diplomats' birth and a battle of dirty politics looms in the national capital.

Wollongong's application, which will be submitted to the PSL this week, has many advantages.

"The people in Wollongong are extremely confident our application will be successful," said club secretary Jim McCormack. "The time is right."

Top coaches pursued

Four top coaches from Australia and overseas have been linked with Canberra Diplomats.

Reports indicate Victorian State coach Len McKendry, Heidelberg Utd coach Manny Poukakakis and former West Adelaide, Heidelberg Utd and APIA boss Jim Adam would be possibilities to take over the new PSL team.

Former Australian coach Jimmy Shoulder has been mentioned but it's likely he will stay in England.

The Diplomats will start in earnest their chase for a coach as soon as their PSL future is assured.

The Diplomats would also have to buy several players and has budgeted $40,000 for transfer fees and $30,000 for signing-on fees.

Player payments by the Diplomats would be $90 a win, $75 a draw and $60 a loss. Players in the training squad, but not in the match squad would get a $30-a-week retainer.

Incentive schemes include: $250 a player when the team reaches 15 points; $50 a player a point after 15 points; $250 a player when the team reaches 25 points and another $250 when 30 points is passed.

The Diplomats would have six players from West Woden and Inter Monaro. They are: Sebastian Giampaolo, Walter Valeri, Gerald Crawford, John Santolin, Vula Wate and Michael Tuilawa.

Argentina's second World Cup

Argentina won the 1979 FIFA World Youth Tournament for the Coca-Cola Cup on Friday night by defeating the Soviet Union, the defending champion, 3-1 in the final before 52,000 spectators at Tokyo's National Stadium.

In the semi-finals, Argentina had beaten Uruguay 2-0 and the USSR had downed Poland 1-0.

Uruguay beat Poland on penalties 5-3 in the play-off for third place, after a 1-1 draw after extra time.

The Soviets concentrated their defence against Argentina's midfielder Diego Maradona and forward Ramon Diaz and the first half ended in a scoreless tie.

The Soviets, then electrified the spectators when Igor Ponomarev scored with a header on an assist

From PETER BENT in Tokyo

from forward Serguei Stukashov for a 1-0 Soviet lead.

The Argentines maintained their threat, deep in Soviet territory, which resulted in a penalty kick for Argentina. Fullback Hugo Alves made good the penalty kick in the 67th minute to tie the score 1-1.

Diaz dribbled through the Soviet defence and booted in a goal from the left flank in the 70th minute to give Argentina a 2-1 lead.

It was Diaz's eighth goal in the tournament and secured him the "Golden Shoe" award for the top scorer.

Maradona clinched victory for Argentina by booting home a long free kick for a goal in the 75th minute.

Maradona was awarded the "Golden Ball" trophy with 175 points as the most valuable player in the tournament in a poll by sports writers and tournament officials. The "Silver Ball" and "Bronze Ball" trophies went to Julio Romero of Paraguay with 110 points and Argentina's Diaz with 64 points.

The "Silver Shoe" scoring trophy went to Maradona with six goals and the "Bronze" shoe trophy to Poland's Andrzej Palasz with five goals.

Details:
SEMI-FINALS: USSR 1 (Ponomarev 49th), Poland 0; Argentina 2 (Diaz 51st, Maradona 72nd), Uruguay 0.
PLAY-OFF FOR THIRD PLACE: Uruguay 1, Poland 1; Uruguay won 5-3 on penalties.
FINAL: Argentina 3 (Alves penalty 67th, Diaz 70th, Maradona 75th) USSR 1 (Ponomarev 51st).

Let's cut out all this uncertainty

Spare a thought for the officials of South Melbourne, Brisbane Lions, Footscray, St George and Sydney Olympic. They must be going through hell.

Will they be relegated, won't they be relegated? Will they be re-elected, won't they be re-elected? Dark clouds of uncertainty hang above them.

I am in favor of promotion and relegation and I always have been, but it should be clear-cut. The present situation is undesirable.

The Philips League tells us that the bottom two clubs will be "relegated" but will be able to apply for re-election, along with other clubs that want membership.

That's so much mumbo-jumbo. The fact is that uncertainty abounds — uncertainty that can and should be avoided.

We either have genuine promotion and relegation or we don't. Let the league make a firm policy for next season.

I understand that the current system was implemented to insure the existing league clubs to some extent. I have a high regard for the achievements of these clubs — St George's new grandstand, Adelaide City's incredible facilities, Heidelberg's move to a new locality and a new ground, APIA's proposed $15 million ground development plan.

Some of the new applicants might do just as well. They must realise, however, that $100,000 does no longer guarantee success. Budgets of successful clubs now approach the quarter-million dollar mark.

My central argument is that all clubs should know from the kick-off whether or not two of them will go down. There should be no grey areas.

Sentiment must be cast aside. Those who finish at the bottom will have to swallow the bitter pill.

Tough, but that's life.

Had there been some clear-cut rule this year, the clubs that are now at the bottom may have put more effort into avoiding their lowly positions.

It was wise of the league to give the founder clubs three seasons in which to establish themselves. The three years are over now.

During that period, other clubs have been working hard to lift their standards sufficiently to make a bid for league membership. Why should anything stand in their way?

Now let's talk about membership and representation.

In an article some weeks

RALE RASIC

ago I wrote that five clubs were too much for Sydney.

In having such a large representation in the country's top league, Sydney's position is unique in the world. Moenchengladbach in Germany cannot support more than one top club. Split in Yugoslavia has only one, Hajduk, and Mostar has only Velez. London, one of the world's biggest cities, has only Arsenal, Tottenham and Crystal Palace — three clubs for about nine million people!

Croatia, Makedonia clash

Big guns Preston Makedonia and Essendon Croatia clash in the Victorian State League this Sunday.

The big game, at E. T. Connor Reserve, Reservoir, is expected to draw a crowd of at least 5000, and is crucial to the championship hopes of both clubs.

Boden Tor Canberra?

Canberra City had talks with Newcastle KB United striker Ken Boden on Monday. Canberra was said to be considering a deal of between $30,000 and $35,000 to sign Boden for next season. Canberra has a link with Newcastle through its manager Max Talbot who was with Newcastle last year. Marconi also is interested in signing Boden. Another player being sought by Marconi is goalkeeper Greg Woodhouse of APIA. APIA meanwhile is trying to sign striker Dixie Deans of Adelaide City.

FOOTSCRAY STRONGER FOR

By LAURIE SCHWAB

Midfielder Mirko Rujevic and left back Igor Hazabent return after suspension to resume Footscray J.U.S.T.'s determined fight against possible relegation in the match against APIA at Middle Park on Saturday.

J.U.S.T. must grab at least a point as it has an even tougher match in Newcastle the following week.

Only goal difference keeps J.U.S.T. ahead of second-last St. George, which appears to have little chance of beating Newcastle at home this week. However, the Saints should get at least one point from their last match, against Olympic next week.

J.U.S.T. was unlucky not to at least draw with Brisbane City after fighting back from a two-goal deficit last week. Vlatko Belic missed a couple of chances early and Dragan Vasic blasted past from point-blank range after Jim Kondaric's goal had reduced the league. Lujic and Palinkas also missed easy chances.

With Rujevic and Hazabent back on action, J.U.S.T. certainly has the talent to worry APIA. However Peter Wilson and Jim Dempsey are formidable hurdles.

Previous results: (using Western Suburbs as APIA): 1977-Foots 2-1, 0-0; 1978-W 3-2, 0-0; 1979-APIA 3-2.

Doug Utesenovic and Mike Fraser are in magnificent form for St. George but even they will find it difficult to cope with Newcastle, which still has aspirations of getting into the top four.

Having knocked off Marconi last Sunday, Newcastle is fired up for its clash with the Saints, who may have to wait for the following week to make its last stand.

Previous results, 1978-St. G. 2-1, Newc 3-2; 1979-Newc 4-2.

Marconi will be strengthened by the return of Tony Henderson for its match against another relegation candidate, Sydney Olympic, at Marconi Oval on Sunday. Henderson missed the match against Newcastle due to suspension.

Ken Wilson, Richie Bell, Ian Rowden and Dave McIntosh, assisted by Mike Cross and Peter Raskopoulos and backed by the brilliant Gary Meier, form a formidable defence for Olympic.

However, Marconi has had its pride hurt by Newcastle and is determined to make amends in front of its home crowd.

Previous results, 1977-Marc 2-0, 0-0; 1978-1-1, 0-0; 1979-Marc 3-0.

Sydney City and Heidelberg will fight it out for second place on the ladder, at Wentworth Park on Sunday.

Hilton Silva, having scored in three successive matches, is recapturing his best form after a disappointing run, and Alan Kershaw is doing an excellent job in defence for City.

Heidelberg's midfielders Jim Campbell and Ken Taylor, who were still recovering from injuries last week, should be back at their best on Sunday. With Branko Buljevic, Jamie Paton, Jimmy Rooney, Pat Bannon and Jim Tansey also in top form, Heidelberg should score a narrow victory.

Previous results, 1977-SC 3-1, 1-1; 1978-SC 2-1, 1-1; 1979-3-2.

Brisbane City, which was far from impressive against Footscray last Sunday, puts its top-four position in jeopardy when it visits Melbourne to meet Hellas at Middle Park on Sunday.

Hellas gained much-needed confidence from its 1-0 victory over West Adelaide last week and if the players put their mind to it, they could beat the Brisbane side.

Hellas fielded a reshuffled team against West Adelaide, with young Peter Scarlett from Hellas' Second Division team, in defence, and another young player, Steve Kakantonis, at centre forward.

Previous results, 1977-BC 2-0, SM 1-0; 1978-BC 1-0, SM 3-0; 1979-BC 1-0.

Brisbane Lions, a relegation prospect last week, is now safe and should climb even further up the ladder by beating struggling Canberra City in Brisbane.

Previous results, 1977-Can 1-0, m 2-1; 1978-Can 2-1, 2-2; 1979-BL 2-1.

Cities not big enough for so many clubs

There used to be more, but as it turned out, not even London could support so many in the top division.

Munich has two Bundesliga teams — Bayern and 1860 — but one of them is destined to struggle. In the early days 1860 was the giant, now Bayern has gained the upper hand and 1860 jumps from First Division to Second Division like a yo-yo.

Now to the Australian scene: If Sydney is over-represented with five teams for just over four million people, then surely it is lunacy to start talking about having two clubs for little Canberra or Newcastle.

Even Brisbane is over-represented by its two clubs.

The argument that there should be a home match in these centres every week carried little weight. Surely it would be of great benefit to soccer in general, i.e. clubs from the local leagues, if a Philips League match were played in places like Brisbane, Canberra or Newcastle only every second week.

We've heard recently that Wollongong is now making a bid to get into the league. This would give New South Wales a representation of SEVEN!

Why? If we are serious about having a NATIONAL LEAGUE, surely it would be more logical to look to Whyalla, Geelong, Tasmania, the Latrobe Valley, Western Australia, rather than putting most of the emphasis on one particular State.

Cautions: Trentor (SC).

Sydney City was on match earlier than the narrow score would indicate and could have resulted in several more goals, but allowed several ill-gotten chances to go begging.

Coach Gerry Chaldi must have one eye laughing because of the valuable win — his team's third in a row — and the other crying as a result of the indecisiveness of his strikers.

In the cut-throat atmosphere of the top four playoffs no team can afford the luxury of allowing slitters to go to waste with an almost monotonous regularity.

As for Olympic, they tried very hard indeed, occasionally even threatened to go into the lead, but never really matched City for skill, and if they are to regain the support of their thousands of missing fans new blood and ideas will be needed next year.

City started the match with real verve and élan. Trentor was hustling and busting up the front, giving the Olympic defence some very anxious moments indeed, especially in the air.

In spite of this Olympic almost opened the scoring in the eighth minute when, with Clarke caught out of position Kershaw had to hook the ball off the line in a scramble — but only as far as Derek Laing.

Laing then calmly proceeded to head the ball past the goal, with the whole City defence in tatters.

With that Olympic just about shot its bolt, although never allowing its opponents to feel too comfortable or secure.

Barnes, Souness, Bruce and Barnes again went very, very close to opening the score, but the noisy crowd had to wait until two minutes into the second half before Hilary Silva hit home a ball which rebounded off Gary Meier.

Silva had probably his best game of what has so far been a very undistinguished campaign for him.

City's longest serving player, the friendly Brazilian has been playing in the Blue-and-White colours since 1971, a run only interrupted by a broken leg in the same year and a long, frustrating spell on the bench during Dave MacLaren's "reign" as coach.

Last year he was on the brink of Soccerro selection, but 1979 saw a sudden, inexplicable slump in Silva's fortunes.

On last Sunday's evidence the former Vasco de Gama star is on the way back.

The final bit of excitement in a fairly satisfactory afternoon of soccer came nine minutes from the end when a flying squad of Olympic officials had to work hard to intercept a small group of would-be linesman bashers, who were displeased with a rather unimportant line call.

Hats off to the officials for quickly defusing a potentially ugly situation.

And hats off also to former Soccerro defender Richie Bell, who took some time to get big Mark Trentor's measure, but after that early uncertainty put on a polished and pleasing display of backline work.

Newcastle KB United completely erased their mediocre performance of the previous week against Sydney City by outplaying the 1979 PSL Champions Marconi.

It was one of the most "gutty" performance the team has produced this year, although Bill Summerville was still on the sidelines with knee trouble. His replacement John Sneddon, playing for the first time in his favorite position of central defender, had a magnificent game against PSL leading goalscorer, Mark Jankovics.

The first half was even and although the tactics Newcastle had to adopt to upset the champions were quite obvious, though not Newcastle did not quite carry out what no doubt would have been Alan Vest's instructions in the first half.

Although all players worked hard there was still too much latitude given to the Marconi backline and midfield. Vert and Byrne were occasionally managing to find space and time to serve their front runners with some useful balls.

Ivo Prskalo also was able to dictate the pace of the game and started most moves in what has been one of the Marconi trade marks this season.

It was to the credit of Newcastle's defence that the Marconi strikers were kept in check.

But with the score 1-1 at half time I felt that a continuation of the same tactics could have spelled disaster for the home side. Eventually the strikers would have eluded their markers and goals would certainly have resulted.

But obviously Vest got his message across at the interval, because Newcastle came out to a different team.

The locals took the initiative by taking the game up to their more illustrious opponents and applied sound pressure.

Gone was the pace that was available in the first half, gone was the time that Prskalo found in the first half, and the well-oiled Marconi machine was not allowed to function.

I might add that there was not a great deal of difference between the first half and second half tactics adopted by Newcastle. They merely took away a couple of metres of slack space between their opponent in possession.

It took Newcastle only 10 minutes to get in front again, and it was Col Curran who scored when he received a clearance 28 metres out and unleashed a great left-foot drive that took a slight deflection before beating Maher, the Marconi goalkeeper.

It was Curran's second goal, having put the locals in front in the first half when he broke through the advancing Marconi defence following a corner and gave Maher no chance on either of his attempts.

Newcastle did not have a bad player on the park, and it is a little unfair to single out players, but how can one overlook the performance of Col Curran?

Spurred on by the fact that he was marking Peter Sharne, the fastest player in the PSL, Curran certainly proved that he can still play at the best of them and when he does not neglect his defensive duties there is not a better left fullback in Australia.

After all, Richie Bell did miss a penalty for Olympic. Luckily for Heidelberg, that penalty miss drained the Olympic players of much of their enthusiasm and for the rest of the match they did not play as well as they had in the first half.

Olympic fought back tirelessly to overcome the setback of Jamie Paton's first-minute goal for Heidelberg.

From that point until half time, Graham Jennings and

The point Lions gained from this draw lifted them clear of danger and left St. George, Footscray and Sydney Olympic to draw the short straw for second-last position and possible relegation from the Phillips League.

The Lions players jumped for joy when they heard after the game that Footscray, St. George and Olympic had all been beaten.

This draw with Heidelberg extended Lions' unbeaten run to six matches.

Lions' late-season success has been built largely on their centre backs Jim Hermiston and Col Bennett. John Lavelle may be a comparative unknown, but he must be one of his illustrious team-mates last Sunday.

Lavelle was brought close to Hermiston and Bennett by Gary Cole, who would have found it easier had he stayed wide instead of crowding in on the centre.

This resulted in a three-man wall of Bennett, Lavelle and Hermiston blocking most of the Heidelberg attacks.

But even they would have been helpless had luck not been on Lions' side. Heidelberg had most of the play — as one would expect against a team looking for a draw — but missed its many chances in front of goal.

Lions had far fewer chances but they were good ones. Eric Fairbrother, for example, hit the woodwork from only 12 metres and Tony Brennan blasted over the bar from the edge of the goal area after having been fouled 25 metres on a breakaway run.

By dropping this point, Heidelberg finally conceded the title to Marconi which, however, lost 1-2 to Newcastle.

Paton was an inspiring leader as usual. He looked much more comfortable at centre back than he did in mid-field against Olympic midweek.

Heidelberg's other top performers were midfielder Jimmy Rooney, left back Jim Tansey and striker Jamie Paton.

Highlights: 25th min: Brennan breaks away on a through ball, pursued by John Yeendoom but goalkeeper Yakka Banovic comes out well to block Brennan.

26 min: Bannon sends Cole away on a through ball but Cole miskicks, making it easy for Lownds.

27th min: Fairbrother hits the crossbar.

36th min: Buljevic goes up to head Campbell's cross downward, hoping the bounce will fool Lownds. It goes wide, however.

52nd min: Brennan shoots over the bar from the edge of the goal area, wasting Lions' best chance to win the match.

54th min: Cole is hurt in a tackle by Bennett limps off for treatment, but resumes, only to be replaced later by Andy Bozikas.

57th min: Paton is flattened at the edge of the area, Buljevic puts a lot of power into the free kick, which bounces off Lownds but Yeendoom, following in, puts the ball across goal.

60th min: Buljevic hooks the ball into the net as bodies fly everywhere and as Paton and Paul Ontong lie injured on the ground. Referee Neal has seen an offence and disallows the goal.

67th min: Bozikas makes his presence felt by pouncing on a loose ball eight metres out, but he puts it over the bar.

Ian Rowden had complete control over the left flank.

This was due not only to their own good play, but because of Theo Selenidis' failure to mark one of them where they came forward. As it was, Arthur McMillan was always faced by both of them. John Yeendoom had to cut across to help, but that left the middle vulnerable, as Bob Provan was out of touch after his lay-off.

Peter Raskopoulos and Mike Crox were doing good, aggressive midfield work in the first half, and with Andy Scott coming off the defence to pick up the ball and go, Olympic looked very aggressive.

Heidelberg based its play exclusively on the first-time flick-on. These flick-ons were South proved it was a much better side than its 0-3 loss to Adelaide City had indicated the previous week, while West Adelaide showed it will have to improve dramatically if it is to stop Adelaide City on Sunday.

On current form, Adelaide City should get a bonus point and Rale Ristic's men probably will be aiming for just that, with a top four spot still within their reach.

West looked promising in the first half and was worth a two goal lead at half time.

But poor finishing which has been its downfall this season haunted it again.

Brisbane City escaped by the skin of its teeth when it hung on grimly to beat Footscray 2-1 at Perry Park.

The only good thing to come out of the match from City's point of view was that the two points enabled it to draw level with Heidelberg to maintain the challenge for a top four position.

City began the match tentatively, in contrast to its usual misses by striker Vasic and Belic, no doubt conscious that Newcastle KB and Adelaide City had pulled up to within a point with wins the previous day.

Lady Luck with APIA

ST GEORGE 0

Scorer: Drews 44th.
Ground: Wentworth Park.
Crowd: 2026.
Weather: Fine and sunny.
Referee: Tony Boskovic 10.
Cautions: Skellern (A), Mihajlovic (SG).

APIA and St George, two Sydney clubs with great tradition and standing, proved that they can play entertaining and skilful soccer worthy of the best in the land despite their low position on the Phillips League ladder.

APIA came into the game minus Ken Reed and Eric Carruthers, with young Samuels and Drews replacing them, while St George had no injuries or suspensions.

APIA opened up strongly and had Saints reeling in the first 15 minutes of the first half, then slowly allowed St George to get on top and dominate the proceedings until the break. During this period, Saints had opportunities galore to rap the game up and look towards better things for the next year. As it was, they missed heaps and then paid dearly for it.

A fine break by O'Connor in the 10th minute led to the first chance in this match. A final shot by O'Connor from an angle looked set to drop over the head of Woodhouse, but the reflex of this young goalie proved yet again his enormous value to APIA as he sprung into the air to push the ball over the bar.

In the 22nd minute O'Connor raced in, Skellern squared the ball to John O'Shea, who pushed the ball past Woodhouse. Cotton, who just stood waiting for Turnbull to clear with the goal wide open, should have made more of it.

A couple of minutes later, Mihajlovic found Cotton with a long pass. Cotton raced down the line before pushing the ball for Hensman to race into the area and face the goalkeeper. From point blank range, Hensman pushed the ball wide of the post.

With Saints still attacking strongly and just minutes from half time, John O'Shea had an ideal opportunity, but blasted the ball over the bar when only the goalkeeper stood before him. Seconds later Woodhouse made a brilliant save on the spot to keep the ball out of the goal.

After all this happening in front of APIA goal, Skellern raced away down the right flank, then crossed the area for Drews to outjump Grosse and head right into the left hand corner of Fraser's net and give his side the most unexpected lead.

In the second half, the story changed somewhat and APIA were now the team that was frustrated by the number of misses in front of goal. After a fine run, Bobby Drews should have scored in the 58th minute but shot weakly and Fraser saved.

A third chance for APIA came after a fumble by George Harris. Bobby Drews had a chance to pick up the ball and face Fraser, but yet again failed to beat the Saints keeper.

Raul Blanco replaced Mihajlovic then Harris with Kadohio and Feenough respectively hoping to add more thrust up forwards.

A couple of half chances fell Saints' way but Wilson managed to clear on both occasions off.

With Harris out of Saints line up, APIA attacked consistently through the vacant area with O'Donnell causing Jim Wilson to be the last to have scored in the 84th minute but shot over the bar following a corner kick.

In the 67th minute Rooney aimed a measured side-footed shot under the crossbar, but Meier stretched his full length to push it against the bar and over for a corner.

The performances of defenders will decide the outcome of the championship-deciding clash between Preston Makedonia and Essendon Croatia at B. T. Connor Reserve this Sunday.

The team which can nullify the opposition's danger men will come out on top, and probably go on to win the 1979 State League title. Makedonia's deadly trio of Robert Cullen, Gary Ward and George McMillan can destroy a defence, with Carl Gilder and Tommy Cumming equally as dangerous.

There will be several important individual duels: Steve Short v. Cullen, Grant Smart v. Ward, Steve Kokoska v. McMillan, Dave Garthwaite v. Gilder and Steve Beech v. Cumming.

Ward and Cullen showed against Frankston City that they must be tightly-marked or will create havoc. With McMillan, the Makedonia tactics involve playing fast, long passes out of defence to utilise the forward's speed.

Croatia's attack is more systematic, with Gilder the target

Essendon Croatia and Preston Makedonia will clash again in the semi-finals of the Dockerty Cup at Olympic Park on Wednesday night, September 26. Their match is the second of a double-header. The first semi-final, at 6.45 pm, is between Slavia and Frankston.

The Dockerty Cup final will be played at Olympic Park on Sunday, September 30. Makedonia meets Geelong Gully Ajax in the Armstrong Cup semi-finals at Kim Reserve, Altona, on Saturday, September 22. Their match follows the semi-final between Sunshine and Slavia, starting at 1.45 pm.

man supplying Cumming, Ken Murphy and Branko Culina with openings.

Both sides are equally as strong in the forward department. The midfield areas of both sides are not dominant, but equal in strength just the same.

Thus, the team with the better defence will come out on top. Using this criteria, Essendon Croatia is favorite to win the game because it has a well organised backline.

Sweeper John Gardiner will ensure his team mates have adequate cover against the pace of Cullen, Ward and McMillan, and his heading of the play will mean few through balls will penetrate the Croatia rearguard.

Cullen and Ward caused trouble when the teams last met, and the fact that Short and Smart aren't fast players could be of concern to Essendon. However, Croatia is sure to apply considerable pressure to these players, and restrict their space.

A Preston win or a drawn match would pave the way for Frankston City to return to the top. I'm not going to predict the championship outcome, but at the risk of making a few enemies down Preston way, I'm tipping Croatia this Sunday.

Duje Zemunik

After being out of the running for most of the season, Essendon Croatia is now favorite to win the championship says coach Duje Zemunik.

And coming into the scene so late is an advantage he added.

"The club didn't expect to win the championship this year," said Duje. "We lost Banovic, Kracevic, Vojtek, Davidson, Lesan and Kerr from the 1978 championship team, and then fell behind Frankston and Makedonia.

"But this is an advantage, because the players are fresh. Makedonia and Frankston have been under pressure all season, but our players are now just starting to give their best effort.

"I honestly think Essendon is the favorite to win the championship."

Croatia has maintained steady form this season, while Frankston started like a rocket, but has faded, and Makedonia has performed spasmodically.

Since Zemunik took over as coach eight weeks ago after the resignation of Brian Edgley, Croatia has improved. This is mainly because of several positional changes made by the new coach.

"Some people think I'm wasting John Gardiner as sweeper," said Duje, "but he's the only player in our squad who can play that position. Since he started playing there the defence has improved 100%.

"Steve Short now plays full back, and is a top player in that position."

Zemunik added that centre half Steve Kokoska is now playing his best soccer.

"Steve is always strong, but now he plays good football too," said Duje.

One player who will be a thorn in the side of Makedonia is ace striker Tommy Cumming.

'Late run
help!
Zemunik

"Tommy's attitude is excellent and he's showing everyone just how great he is," said Duje. "He's producing top soccer, but surprisingly isn't getting so much 'attention' from defenders. Against Green Gully and Sunshine he received no 'treatment'."

However, while Cumming is a feared player, so is Makedonia's George McMillan.

"McMillan is the best forward in the State League," said Zemunik. "He's fast and fit, and has a good shot. The best thing about him is that he never stops running."

Makedonia has a dangerous forward line with McMillan, Gary Ward and Robert Cullen, but Duje said he had no special plans to combat the trio.

"If all our players contribute, we will not have to worry about any Makedonia players," he said confidently.

"Croatia will win if every player does his job. Some people say Tommy Cumming wins games for us, but there's no point him playing a great game if seven or eight others don't do their job."

Like any good Essendon Croatia supporter, Zemunik is quick to remind Makedonia that Croatia traditionally comes out on top in these battles.

"Tradition favors us, but our biggest incentive is to avenge our defeat at Olympic Park earlier this year," said Duje. "The players have a score to settle."

Western Suburbs to boost the State League

Championship at Pocock's first attempt

BY LAURIE SCHWAB

CLUB TO WORK ON GROUND

Western Suburbs hope to stay at their home ground in Ralph Street, Sunshine, next season.

Club chairman Emmanouel Parisi said this week he had talked with Commissioner Gillon and the City Engineer and Town Planner of Sunshine about improvements to the ground.

"They are happy with our proposals and with their help, our ground will be as good as some others in the State League," Mr Parisi said.

"We want to move the pitch a few feet towards the Glengalla Road end, we want to put in a new training pitch at the golf course end and we want to build new dressing rooms. We have asked the City to supply the material and we will do the work ourselves."

MCCARTHY, MIMIS TIMELY RECRUITS

The Victorian State League will have a Greek team in 1980, for the first time since Hellas and Al-Exander left to join the Philips League three years ago.

The newcomers are Western Suburbs, who gained promotion by winning the First Division championship by four points from runner-up Polonia.

The seeds of success were sown at the start of the 1978 season when the club appointed Tony Vrzina, now boss of Preston-Makedonia, as manager-coach. Vrzina, with the backing of club president Jim Tsabassidis and the committee, bought a number of players who were to become the backbone of the 1979 champion team — Marian Jaworski, Mike Glykokalamos, Steve Moore and Andy Czapnik.

Calling all members

Western Suburbs have appealed to all members to turn up to the annual meeting at the Ralph Street ground on September 30.

The club has about 100 financial members.

"We want them all there so that we can elect an enlarged committee," club chairman Emmanouel Parisi said. "We want people with ideas and who are willing to work."

"The idea is to form sub-committees which will specialise in various areas."

"We have to work with dedication and unity to make us strong for our first year in the State League."

THE LEADERS Melbourne was tough

Western Suburbs did slightly better in the first round of the season, gaining 17 points in the second half.

However, it lost only one in the second half whereas it has two losses in the first round.

Melbourne is the only team which did not manage to beat — and Melbourne has been relegated.

Both games between the two ended in 1-1 draws.

Western Suburbs first-round record was:

W D L F A Pts
8 1 2 18 6 17

West's second-round record:

W D L F A Pts

West's results were:

v Kellor City 1-0, 3-0
v Springfield 1-1, 1-1

$1/4 M. budget John Barclay as advisor

The club hopes to sign several sponsorship deals to finance the projected budget of $200,000.

"There are 300,000 people in the area," said McCormack, managing director of a real estate company, "and we predict a minimum of 4,000 supporters. This figure is conservative as Wollongong would attract a much larger following with the right promotion work."

The Wollongong club was started using a blueprint of Newcastle KB Ltd. Eight directors have been appointed and the search is under way to find a major sponsor.

"We are yet to finalise our sponsorship deals. However, capital will be generated through foundation and life memberships offered to supporters," McCormack said.

Wollongong will play its home games at the city's Showgrounds.

One thing in Wollongong's favor is the support of ASF president Sir Arthur George, who is believed to be keen on getting PSL soccer to the city.

The directors of Wollongong are: Jim McCormack, John Elliot (managing director of Harrigan Ford), Greg Best (area director of the Department of Sport and Recreation), Graham Matthews (accountant), Alan Hoy (executive of TV station WIN4), Harold Hansen (solicitor), Richard Drake (city librarian) and George Ackouie (chairman of Illawarra Ethnic Community Association).

The Canberra Diplomats club is the result of an amalgamation of ACT First Division club West Woden Juniors and NSW State League club Inter Monaro.

Inter is based at Queanbeyan, only seven miles from West Woden.

The directors of the new club, which will be officially called Canberra Queanbeyan Soccer Club Limited, are: Clarence Hermes, Oswald DaDeppo, Thomas Harding, Hal Leslie, Gerard Martens, John Memmolo, John Bromfield and Francesco Brunacci.

The new club will be backed by the Marco Polo Club of Queanbeyan and the Italo-Australian Club Inc. of West Woden.

Marco Polo Club back Inter Monaro and the Italo-Australian Club backs West Woden.

Each social club will sink $30,000 into the venture but will have no say in the running of the club.

Commercial sponsors are being sought to provide $45,000. The club is budgeting to spend $271,000 in the first year.

Club membership and fund raising is expected to raise $70,000.

The venture is financially stable, with excellent prospects of growth. The idea originated 18 months ago, but was given a great boost by John Barclay, the former Australian team manager, ASF delegate and Victorian State League chairman.

Barclay has acted an advisor but may become a director of the Diplomats.

The Diplomats who would share Bruce Stadium, maintain Canberra needs a second PSL team to stop a swing away from the sport.

While I was in Canberra last week, I was shown figures that indicate crowds are falling. The attendance of the Canberra City v. Heidelberg Utd game last Saturday week was an all-time low since City moved to Bruce Stadium for the 1978 season.

The major reason behind the fall, say the Diplomats, is the irregularity of PSL games in Canberra. The club maintains one game a fortnight is not enough.

The Diplomats' application to the PSL says: "The solid core of soccer supporters has been disappointed as PSL matches are not in Canberra each week and it is submitted that the league risks losing support because of irregular fixtures."

"Weekly PSL games in Canberra will find consistent support and attendances, and in the Board's opinion (the attendances) would remain constant between Canberra City and a second club."

"The Diplomats would inject new life into Canberra soccer and would benefit soccer in general, juniors and Canberra City."

However, City has taken a different view of the situation. In a terse statement, City manager Max Talbot said: "There is not enough support for Canberra to have two PSL clubs. The PSL must make up its mind whether it wants strong clubs, or merely competition within cities."

"Canberra City can be a strong club, but needs more time to consolidate its position."

Drinkwater to be player of year?

With only two matches to play in the Philips League premiership, Roy Drinkwater who is the team's captain, seems certain to cling to his lead in the club's Player of the Year Award competition.

Drinkwater heads a table of 20 players with an average of 7.75 points after 30 matches this season.

The figure of 30 represents 23 premiership matches, four Cup-ties and three matches of lesser importance such as the Prime Minister's Cup.

Drinkwater's lead is slender. Jim Preston has scored 7.72 points but has played in fewer matches.

Preston has played in only 10 premiership, two Cup-ties and two other matches.

Joe Senaldi, with 16 appearances, is third on the list, almost a quarter of a point behind Drinkwater.

Only four players have appeared in the 23 premiership matches to last Saturday week. Points for the match against Marconi Fairfield are not yet available and one of them, Ken Boden, was winner of the award last year. But he is in eighth place this year with 7.38 points.

Col Curran who like Drinkwater and Boden, has played in every match this season, is slightly ahead of Boden.

Peter Tredinnick, who has played in all premiership fixtures has also played in three Cup-ties and a Prime Minister's Cup match.

Drinkwater is second on the goal-scoring list with seven-one behind Boden's tally — and one in front of Graham Heys' six.

Plans for new PSL club in Newcastle

Although at present little more than a talking point, the possibility of another team from Newcastle seeking admission to the Philips League grows day by day.

A group of Newcastle professionals and business men, attracted to soccer by the success of Newcastle KB United, has held a number of informal discussions about forming another club.

There is no suggestion of trying to either take over KB United or endeavouring to put it in any way but simply to give Newcastle a second team in Australia's top soccer competition.

It is argued, and fairly, that the remarkable success of KB United clearly proves that Newcastle wants Soccer at the top level and wants it every weekend rather than once in every two weeks as at present.

The attendance figures for KB United's home matches certainly suggest that there is room — indeed, even a need — for two division sides. The city is big enough to carry two such teams.

The proposal, at the moment, is at no more than the possibility stage but it seems certain that, from it, something definite will emerge before too long. The date suggested is for an application for admission to the 1981 premiership to be lodged.

These interested are men of substance caught up in the enthusiasm KB United has engendered. They insist that they are in no way interested in opposing KB United but are keen to follow its example and consider that a second team in Newcastle is warranted and a natural sequel to the interest the present team has provided.

How Newcastle KB United's Board of Directors view the proposal is not known but members of the Northern NSW Federation Board reacted to it would be interesting since the Federation will launch its State League in 1980 and is hopeful that it will have at least one weekend in every two free of opposition to stage its top fixtures.

UTD'S TOP FOUR PUSH TO DRAW BIG CROWD?

The 12,448 at the International Sports Centre on Saturday when KB United defeated Marconi 2-1 to keep the side's hopes of a place in the top very much alive, was the second biggest crowd for the home team's matches this season.

It was the sixth time in KB United's 12 home matches that the attendance has exceeded 10,000.

The aggregate soared to 125,472 for an average attendance of 10,456.

Add the 47,768 for crowds at the away grounds on which KB United has played and the team has played in front of 173,238 this season.

This is a remarkable effort for a team in only its second year in the Philips League.

The attendance last Saturday would certainly have been much greater had the match not clashed with the Mattara Festival Parade, an event which highlights an important week of various activities to publicise the city.

If KB United is still in the running for a place in the top four when it meets Footscray

LEAGUE SETS IMPORT QUOTAS

By JACK MATTHEWS

The Northern N.S.W. Soccer Federation's State League competition to begin next season moved a big step forward last Saturday.

Nine of the 10 clubs which have been accepted into the new league were represented at a meeting at Adamstown

Rosebuds Club and gave positive assurance of their administrative, organising and financial abilities to meet their commitments and the standards required by the Federation.

The one club missing the meeting was Armidale in the N.S.W. New England district, but it provided written guarantees that were acceptable.

The other nine clubs are Adamstown, Wallsend, Swansea-Beimont, Stewarts and Lloyds, Weston, Egreworth, Tamworth, Coff's Harbour and Grafton.

It was suggested — and the suggestions will almost certainly be adopted — that the matter of promotion and relegation not be considered for two or three seasons and that each club be allowed no more than three players who do not hold Australian naturalisation papers.

The promotion-relegation issue was one of considerable concern to the clubs, each of which had to prove ability to meet the $8000 operating costs.

It was argued, and unanimously accepted, that there must be a reasonable period for clubs to settle down and to have opportunity to recoup the outlay. Since all nine clubs agreed on this point there was little discussion about it.

The restriction as to the number of imported players was another matter quickly and amicably settled since all were agreed on its necessity. The omission of KB United and Cardiff Clubs, each of which could easily meet the new league's requirements, from the new competition is the most discussed subject in Northern Soccer circles.

There has been no explanation as to why their applications were rejected. It is not likely that there will be one.

The general opinion is that KB United has been shabbily treated by a Federation it has endeavoured to help and that the Federation is being particularly short-sighted in its approach to the matter.

Another subject freely discussed concerns the future of some of the long established clubs in the North which have played in the Northern N.S.W. Federation's First Division competition but which are not in the new league.

These clubs out in the cold and apparently expected to play in a competition of a very minor level, include some with much history and tradition in the code in Australia — such clubs as the famed West Wallsend, Cessnock, Lake Macquarie, Cardiff, Newcastle Austral, all of which have been permanent fixtures in Northern competitions for many years.

Their futures are unknown but seem, at present, to be somewhat bleak to say the least.

It is sad for Soccer when clubs of such renown as West Wallsend and Cessnock are missing from the top ranks.

West Wallsend was founded in 1892 and is one of the oldest clubs in N.S.W. It won the much-sought after Gardner Cup six times and has produced a host of internationals, such players as the almost legendary 'Podge' and Henry Maunders, Clarrice Coutts, 'Wagga' James, H. 'Bunny'

Muir and many others. The club's record of success in competition play is unequalled in Australian Soccer.

Cessnock is another club with a long history and a proud record of success. It will be a sorry day for Northern Soccer if Cessnock is kept too long in the shadows.

The clubs from the New England and North Coast districts which will play in the new competition are well advanced in their organisation and give promise of being something of a rod in pickle for the older and well established Newcastle and South Maitland clubs.

Tamworth City will field a strong team and one not lacking in experience. Coached by Jack Routledge, a former Newcastle player, it will include some members who have already made a mark in Soccer of high standards.

Among them is Geoff Atwell, a striker said to have the ability to hold a place in any Philips League team but who is not interested in leaving Tamworth.

Tamworth City has a number of up-and-coming young players who have done well in representative football.

The club has acceptable sponsorship available and already a first-rate playing surface at the highly-regarded Tamworth Showground is being prepared well in advance so that it will have reached a high standard when needed for competition play.

Armidale United's president, Mr Dudley Butler, who heads an enthusiastic nine-man committee, which includes leading business personalities, reports that local interests will sponsor the team.

The players will be coached and captained by Bill Shepherd, a former Scotland Youth international.

He is reported to be a highly skilled coach. Among those in his charge will be the promising 18-year-old Michael Shorter, who toured Europe with a Northern N.S.W. Youth side two years ago.

Grafton, which may change its name to the Clarence Valley Club to identify itself with the big river on which the town is located, has recruited a strong, energetic and imaginative board of management headed by the live-wire Robin Butlin.

Interest in the venture in the thriving town is marked and keen. The club is in the process of arranging sponsorship with five business organisations.

Paul Keogh, a former Newcastle player, will coach the side. He had much coaching experience in the North and has already guided 15 locals through the Preliminary Coaching Course.

It's like Partizan versus Red Star

By RALE RASIC
Adelaide City coach

The Adelaide City v. West Adelaide clash is a game of the giants, comparable with matches between Red Star and Partizan, Manchester City and Manchester United, or Rangers and Celtic.

Irrespective of their standings on the ladder, all clashes between City and West stir the Adelaide public's imagination.

There is special magic about these games and they always draw Adelaide's biggest crowds of the season.

West Adelaide may have no chance of getting into the top four but that won't detract from the spectacle. Prestige is at stake, and prestige is not surrendered lightly.

It is unfortunate that so many excellent players will be missing due to injury. Dave Pillans, Barry Reynolds and Vic Bozanic have been out for some time, as have City's Jim Muir and John Besir. Dixie Deans has been suffering from a nagging injury and must be classed as doubtful at this stage.

But the talent that will be on display is quite formidable.

Martyn Crook is probably the finest goalkeeper in the league at the moment, and he will cause my team a lot of problems.

Dave Jones, Peter Boyle, Graham Honeyman and John Kosmina are other West Adelaide players for whom I have great respect.

But my own stars should not be underestimated either. West Adelaide knows well the capabilities of Bobby Russell, John Perin, Gary Marocchi (back to his best after injury), the Nyskohus brothers, Glen Dodds, Agenor Muniz, Brian Northcote and the rest.

For Tom Forde and I these are matches that are easy to prepare for. We do not have to motivate the players — they motivate themselves, for they see it as a highlight of the season.

The match will present a contrast of styles, with West Adelaide playing a more direct brand of soccer than City. However, Boyle and Kosmina are capable of changing to whatever style that may be required at any given time.

City has been playing good soccer for most of the season but we haven't been able to finish off in front of goal. That's been our big downfall.

I hope we overcome it on Sunday.

City's New Zealand international Glenn Dodds.

City has a over '78

By KYLE PA

Adelaide City has had the better of arch rival West Adelaide since the inception of the Philips League and is likely to record another impressive result to add to its record when the two teams meet at the Olympic Sports Field on Sunday.

Socceroo in the making

Charlie Villani was playing high school soccer until two years ago. Today he is an automatic choice for the Adelaide City senior team, and he's only 17 years old.

Adelaide City coach Rale Rasic had his first opportunity to watch Villani in action during a South Australian Ampol Cup to experiment with up-and-coming players. Villani was one of them.

At half time of the match against Azzurri, Rasic sought out Villani and said to him: "If you continue playing like that, you will be a full Australian international within two years."

Rasic has been working with Villani daily since then and is full of enthusiastic praise for the player's ability. "He has phenomenal technique, he is terrific in the penalty box, a spot-on goalscorer. He has split-second acceleration and he can play anywhere on the field."

Villani was born in Adelaide of Italian parents who are dedicated totally to his dream of football success at the highest level.

His first representative honors will come soon, as he has been added by coach Rudi Gutendorf to the squad that will contest the finals of the 1981 World Youth Championship.

A quiet, totally dedicated boy, he is benefiting greatly from being in the company of such great players as John Perin, Agenor Muniz, Gary Marocchi, Dixie Deans and the Nyskohus brothers.

Villani was brilliant in Adelaide City's recent 3-0 victory over South Melbourne and, appropriately, was voted player of the match. — LAURIE

Of eight PSL championship and Cup games, Adelaide City has won four, drawn three and suffered one loss — in the first-round league match of 1978.

In that match, played at the Olympic Sports Field in front of 13,051 people, goals from defender Barry Reynolds and striker Graeme Norris gave West Adelaide a 2-1 victory.

Midfielder Gary Marocchi, the former Socceroo who has missed many games this season through injury, replied for Adelaide City.

That victory, and a 'toss of the coin' penalty kicks win in the 1977 Philips Cup first round, are West's only successes against Adelaide City. However, for the purpose of analysis, the 1977 Cup game has been counted as a draw.

Adelaide City has scored 14 goals against West Adelaide in eight games, with the versatile Brian Northcote the top scorer with three.

City can boast of a grand 4-1 in 1977, plus two victories this season. City will achieve a hat trick of wins if it comes out on top on Sunday.

In the first league game of 1979, Adelaide City emerged 2-1 winner with goals from Brian Northcote and Robert Marwe. Big forward Dave Pillans grabbed West Adelaide's lone goal.

Charlie Villani dribbles a ground are Danny Moulis (la

West Adelaide, as 1978 champion, must have been humiliated by that defeat at the hands of the 'enemy', but that was only the beginning.

In a later Philips Cup match, Adelaide City swept to victory with a penalty kick goal by John Nyskohus two minutes from time.

Bitter memories of last 2 games

By TOM FORDE
West Adelaide coach

West Adelaide and Adelaide City have produced some great games over the past 10 years but the two most recent clashes bring bitter memories.

West Adelaide lost those two games and both finished in controversy.

In the Phillips Cup a last-minute penalty to John Nyskohus gave Adelaide City a win, and in the first league game we are robbed of a point when a goal was disallowed.

Adelaide City won 2-1, but Wests had the better of the play. However, the PSL is so tight that it needs only one mistake or one piece of misfortune to swing a game.

I hope the game this Sunday has a decisive result, as was the case when West Adelaide defeated Adelaide City 3-0 in the Ampol Cup this year.

West Adelaide has failed to retain the Phillips League championship, but still I'm satisfied with the team's performance. West has done well considering the many injuries and suspensions we copped this season.

The worst injury was a broken leg suffered by Neil McGachey, Gordon McCulloch, Barry Reynolds, Vic Bozanic, Dave Pillans and Con Kambas have all been sidelined for lengthy periods.

Having half a championship team out makes things difficult. West bought only two players this year - John Kosmina and Gary Dooley - and so we haven't got the depth to cover injury and suspension.

A word on the suspensions, which have ruined West Adelaide this season. Con Kambas was out for a month in what was a diabolical decision. He had blood streaming from his head and retaliated as the teams left the field at half time.

But what about the player who caused Kambas' injury? He got off scot free!

Adelaide City has some good players and always gives West Adelaide a hard game. I coached West from 1967 to '73, and I know about these 'derby' games.

I don't believe in worrying about the opposition's key players, just making sure my players do their job.

David Jones has been West Adelaide's most consistent player this season and fortunately has avoided serious injury.

Martyn Crook has been hot and cold in goals, but I'm sure if he could have maintained his best form, we would be in the top four.

John Kosmina is back to his best and midfielder Peter Boyle is having an other good season, and is leading the major Player of the Year award in Adelaide.

The main problem with the team has been goalscoring. Having so many creative players out of the side makes it hard but still, we haven't taken enough chances.

Adelaide City and West Adelaide are evenly matched teams. The side that gets the breaks will come out on top and I've a feeling that luck will run our way for a change.

PERSON

Adelaide derby this Sunday. Another big crowd is expected, as these matches are big events in the South Australian season.

The record crowd for a West Adelaide/Adelaide City match is 16,251. As the attendance indicates, the match, a league game this year, was the most significant between the two sides.

West Adelaide clinched the PSL championship before a record number of fans at a 1-1 at Hindmarsh Stadium in the last league game.

While Adelaide City has definite superiority on figures, the championship trophy surely evens the score. In fact, West Adelaide is justified in calling it the 'giant' of South Australian football.

West's title victory, under guidance of coach Jim Munn, was totally unexpected. Most observers thought PSL silverware would be red among Sydney big guns (and Sydney City).

However, West Adelaide edged out relentlessly as the crowd crumbled away and the end pipped 1977 champion Eastern Suburbs (now Sydney City) by a point.

and Canberra City opponent. In the background Canberra and Adelaide City's Chris Kent.

hat important point was that thanks to a magnificent goal by defender Vicanic, who sneaked into the back as West Adelaide City scored a goal by John Perin.

Adelaide City has left the West Adelaide camp this year. The Ampol's crown has been dented over to Marconi, and it is out of the Phillips Cup out of range of the top Adelaide City still has plenty to play for. There remains a slim hope of reaching the prestigious finals series, and in the Phillips Cup final, Adelaide City plays St. George.

However, injuries to key defenders Jim Muir and John Besir have left a considerable gap in the Adelaide City defence.

John Perin, normally a midfielder, and Bugsy Nyskohus, a full back, have been drafted into the centre of defence.

Up forward, Adelaide City has several dangerous players. Scottish international Dixie Deans combines well with Socceroo forward John Nyskohus, with Chris Kent or Brian Northcote raiding down the flanks.

This is Adelaide City's strength, in what is basically a defensive unit.

West Adelaide had great momentum when it won the 1978 premiership. However, the momentum has gone, as have vital players Dave Pillans and Neil McGachey.

McGachey tragically broke a leg, and Pillans has made only fleeting appearances this season due to an ankle injury.

Goalscoring has been a big problem for West Adelaide.

Leading scorers are Graeme Norris and John Kosmina but more is expected from two forwards who cost the club a total of $50,000.

Adelaide City, with Dixie Deans, Chris Kent, John Nyskohus and Brian Northcote is slightly better off.

However, 'Soccer Action' predicts Adelaide City will continue to dominate West Adelaide.

ICI merger laid foundations

Western Suburbs in their present form, came into existence in 1969 when the then District League club West Sunshine amalgamated with Deer Park ICI, which was in the Victorian Fourth Division at the time.

West Sunshine was founded late in 1966 by Dimitrios Fikaris, who sought the help of the Greek Social Club Adamidis.

Two other clubs in the area — Libertas and Sunshine Heights had amalgamated but in 1966 they were refused re-admission to the Federation so West Sunshine had the district to itself.

Mr Fikaris asked estate agent Emmanuel Paris to become president and the new club entered the West Division of the District League in 1967, to finish fifth.

In 1968, the club signed former South Melbourne Hellas goalkeeper Savvas Kagioglou as play-coach and won the West Division premiership. ICI finished second in the District League Cup, being beaten 2-3 by Fitzroy, after leading 2-0.

The same year, West Sunshine made an application for admittance to Fourth Division, but the decision went to Eltham.

Victorian Soccer Federation officials explained at the time that there were enough clubs based in the Western Suburbs.

So Mr. Paris and Rick Lavale of the District League proposed an alteration to the V.S.F. constitution to permit the promotion — relegation system to be carried through into the District League.

ICI was formed in 1928 and by 1937 had climbed up into the First Division.

From 1938 to 1940, it won the Dockerty and Armstrong Cups in three successive seasons.

In winning the 1940 First Division championship undefeated, ICI set a record of being unbeaten at home for three years.

The club's last success was in 1967 when it won the Metropolitan North Division Championship, and from then on, it slid downhill.

In 1965 it completed a series of relegations by ending up in the Fourth Division.

Some of ICI's greatest players were full back Jack Weir, captain Angus Drennan, who represented Australia against Everton in 1953 and who won the Argus Medal while playing for Box Hill in 1959; defender Jim Balish, who later played with Slavia and captained Altona City and Johnny Armstrong, who also graduated to Slavia.

Other players of 1968 had been Douglas Joyce, Vince Brincat, Arthur Gabriel, Zisis Papapashalis and Konstantinos Mathioudakis.

The new Western success, finishing second in Fourth Division and being promoted to Third Division.

This success was maintained, with Wests being promoted to Second Division in 1970 and to First Division in 1973.

George Maikousis was the club's star over these years.

A brilliant forward, midfielder or defender, he was acknowledged as one of the finest players in the Metropolitan League and his reputation was such that Sunshine City signed him to help get that club into the State League.

Longest-serving of the Wests players is Dimitrios Kypridis, who has been playing since the club's District League days.

To complete the club's history, we must also mention of the ICI club which provided West Sunshine with the opportunity to get into the Metropolitan League.

FRANKSTON 0 MAKEDONIA 3

Scorers: Ward 7th, Cullen (2) 19th, 35th
Ground: Centenary Park
Crowd: est. 2500
Referee: Nick Karlich
Cautions: Parrott, McCuskey, Taylor (F)

FRANKSTON: Paterson 5 (GB-hurt 6, half time) - v. Bannon 5, McCuskey 7, Adams 6, Parrott 4 (Taylor 5, 40th min) - Tulloch 8, G. Bannon 5, T. Young 5 (injured, left field 90th min) - B. Young 8, Mitten 7, Swinscoe 5.

MAKEDONIA: Kastner 8 - d. Raine 5, Higgins 6, Gartwhaites 7, Beach 6 - Lashbri 7, Flavell 6, Petrovski 6 - Cullen 8, Ward 5, McMillan 7 (Faulkner 78th min).

The brilliant duo Robert Cullen and Garry Ward combined to send Frankston City tumbling from top position in the State League for the first time this season.

Ward and Cullen destroyed Frankston in the first half, in which Makedonia scored three goals. Frankston fought back in the second half, but the damage done was too great.

Cullen, with his speed and tigerish enthusiasm, was too much for the Frankston defence, while Ward disproved the theory that he's only a goalscorer.

He displayed great skill on the ball, and was lightning fast in spotting openings in the often bewildered Frankston defence.

Cullen had too much pace for Alan Parrott, who limped off in the 4th minute after fighting a hopeless battle with the Frankston striker.

His replacement, John Taylor, also failed to tightly mark Cullen.

Vince Bannon never came to grips with Ward, who found it easy to lose his marker and pop up in the open.

Ward and Cullen were the difference between the teams. I say that because neither side had a decisive advantage in midfield and the Makedonia defence was shown to be slightly suspect.

Whereas Makedonia has the forwards to cut to ribbons a defence, Frankston failed to utilise fully Bruce Young, who had the better of Mike Raine.

Bruce Young was outstanding and Neil Mitten, in the second half, joined forces with Young in search of a goal. However, the effort of the Frankston players was better than in previous games.

Playing with the wind, Makedonia got off to a great start when Cullen back-heeled to Gordon Flavell, creating space for Flavell to cross into the goalmouth.

Unchallenged, Ward jumped to powerfully head Makedonia into a seventh minute lead.

At the 19 minute mark, Makedonia caught the Frankston defence exposed, and made the score 2-0. Cullen slipped in before Parrott, and knocked the ball forward for Ward to run towards goal. There was a suspicion of offside but Ward was allowed to approach goal before shooting a square ball past Frank Peterson for Cullen to score into the open goal.

The result was cut and dried when Cullen made it 3-0. Again the goal came after a breakaway, Makedonia's most lethal forward play.

George McMillan beat Danny McCuskey who had a good game and sent away Cullen. He was helped by Frank Peterson, who did well to deflect his shot.

Frankston looked out of danger, but Parrott erred, and this allowed Ward to cut the ball back, with Peterson stranded, for Cullen to score into an open goal.

Makedonia deserved to score three goals but was fortunate to keep Frankston scoreless.

A John Higham backpass stopped short and Kevin Swinscoe collected, but his low shot was saved by Lou Kastner. Mitten raced away down the right and his far post cross was aimed for Bruce Young, who couldn't get a shot in because Raine made a timely tackle.

Swinscoe wasted another opportunity after intercepting a shocking cross-goal pass by Raine, and then Kastner made a great save after Bruce Young worked his way behind the Makedonia defence.

Kastner saved a good swerving shot from Alex Tulloch and Bruce Young shot just wide on the turn.

The second half was an anti-climax. Frankston, with the wind at its back, had much of the play. But Makedonia still carved out the best scoring chances.

Frankston's best chance came early in the second half when Swinscoe nodded down Bruce Young's cross, and Mitten smashed a rocket shot against the post.

McMillan had the same misfortune at the other end when his shot hit the underside of the bar and bounced out.

Frankston was severely hindered by Tony Young failing to assert any authority in midfield, and Ged Bannon being less of a driving force.

Swinscoe had a poor game and failed to feed Mitten, who nevertheless was a dangerous player in the second half.

Of course the Frankston defence was over-powered, although McCuskey worked like a trojan.

Eric Leabird had a fair game in midfield but this is a problem spot for Makedonia. The inclusion of the mobile Jeff Faulkner in this department may solve a few problems.

In defence, Makedonia made too many errors. Raine and Righam were caught for speed, a commodity needed to combat Croatia's Tommy Cumming.

Makedonia showed it is a powerful attacking unit, but defensively is not as sound as it should be. - KYLE PATTERSON.

Moment of truth

Like Napoleon at Waterloo, Albion Rovers is about to face the moment of truth.

The controversial reign of Albion as a State League club will be officially terminated unless the Rovers defeat Slavia at Selwyn Park on Sunday.

Albion (11 points) must defeat Slavia (14 points) or be banished to the Metropolitan League. Even worse, relegation could precipitate the end of Albion as an entity.

Victory would put Albion within one point of Slavia with one game remaining. If Albion then defeated Hakoah at Selwyn Park, and Slavia lost to Sunshine City, the Rovers would pull off the great escape.

Although on the brink of disaster, Albion is a battling outfit which will fight to the bitter end.

This was proved last season when Albion overcame a player revolt and going broke to hoist itself off the bottom and away from relegation. Albion is a survivor.

The State League has presented Albion with two seasons of struggling - both on and off the field. However, an almost fanatical spirit to overcome troubled times has seen the Rovers prevail.

Last Saturday, Albion displayed incredible fight against Ajax, but failed to earn any reward.

Against Slavia, Albion will cut loose.

Slavia, the 1979 Ampol Cup runner-up, could so easily slip into oblivion. It has some class players, but in this relegation crisis, the side with the most guts and determination will win the day.

Slavia will probably be without striker Dave Griffiths, who has a damaged ankle. Stopper Glenn Westley has a knee injury, but probably will be available.

Albion will be without defender Frank McLeod, who was sent off last week.

Selwyn Park will be no place for the weak at heart. A thrilling game is in store.

The Albion defence, with Bobby Nisbet and Tony Gatt in excellent form, could perhaps hold Slavia even if a man short. Against Ajax, Albion had only a three-man defence.

Albion will need potential match-winners Mike D'Sylva, Gerry Reilly and Bill McCormack to fire.

Slavia's defence will be weakened if Westley is unfit, but the side has dangerous forwards in Jim Williams and Brian Monaghan. However, goalscoring touch has deserted Slavia's forwards lately.

To predict a winner of this game is hard, but I've a hunch that Albion will snatch victory.

Up the road from Selwyn Park, George Cross and Green Gully will play at Green Gully Reserve in the Maltese derby.

The first round game finished a 1-1 draw, and with both sides now safe from relegation, some good soccer may be played.

George Cross has been playing poorly, while Green Gully was locked in a relegation battle. The victory over Albion with a goal from Steve Bennie ended Ajax's fears.

With the pressure off, I think Ajax will produce some good form and take out the game.

Croydon City and Juventus are still fighting for a top four position, with both teams having tough games. Sunshine City has worried many teams at Chaplin Reserve, and Croydon will not enjoy its visit there. With Rob Nelson in fine form, Sunshine has the drive to beat Croydon.

Nick Lowe may return to boost the defence, freeing Rob Nelson to the midfield.

Croydon has been in great form but I think Sunshine will snatch a point.

Juventus must beat Hakoah at Olympic Park. With Bobby McGuinness in fine touch, Juve has the power to score a few goals.

A Juventus victory coupled with a Croydon draw would give Juve fourth spot on goal difference.

I predict Juventus will hit back after the loss last week.

The Altona/Frankston game is most vital, but with Frankston going through the horrors most onlookers think Frankston is dead and gone as a championship contender.

Frankston went down by three goals last week, but with the endeavour shown, it could get back on the winning list against Altona.

Altona will be tough, but I think Frankston's luck is about to change.
